

Vivian Doumpa

Urban Planner & Geographer Placemaker and Trainer, Stipo

Vivian Doumpa is a Greek urban planner and geographer, inspired by and appreciating the value of culture and creativity in our daily life. By mixing aspects and tools of place making, participatory planning and socio-cultural management, she aims to develop interdisciplinary approaches, methodologies, partnerships and projects that enhance inclusivity and equity in urban communities. She has worked together with adults, youth as well as with the Urban95 group, which reflects the needs and aspirations of young children, their caregivers and pregnant women. She is an associate partner for the Netherlands-based urban development agency, STIPO, in Greece, a partner for the international program, the City at Eye Level, a board member of the European Place-making Network, and a freelance collaborator of different agencies and teams in Greece and internationally.
